ROYAL COLLEGE OF SURGEONS IN IRELAND REGULATIONS GOVERNING ADMISSION TO FELLOWSHIP AD EUNDEM

RCSI DEVELOPING HEALTHCARE LEADERS WHO MAKE A DIFFERENCE WORLDWIDE

Criteria

The grounds for recommendation for this mode of admission to the Fellowship of the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland (RCSI) shall apply to persons engaged in the practice of surgery and its specialties. To be proposed for election, a candidate should:

- a. have reached a standard in surgery commensurate with that of a practising consultant surgeon, of good standing, in Ireland at a similar stage of career;
- b. be currently making/will make a meaningful contribution to the activities and interests of the RCSI;
- c. have the written support of two Fellows of the RCSI, personally known to the applicant.
- d. hold a Fellowship, by examination, of any one of the bodies listed in Table 1 and/or one of the qualifications listed in Table 2 of this document OR is practising surgery at a high level of distinction, minimally at consultant or equivalent status.

Application Process

The applicant will forward the following to the Managing Director of Surgical Affairs, Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland, 121 St Stephen's Green, Dublin 2:

- › Completed application form (Form A)
- › Two statement of support forms, completed independently by two RCSI Fellows in good standing who will sponsor the application (Form B x 2).
- › Current curriculum vitae.

Application for election to the Fellowship Ad Eundem shall be referred by the Managing Director of Surgical Affairs to the Committee for Surgical Affairs for consideration and report.

On receiving a recommendation from the Committee for Surgical Affairs, the RCSI Council shall consider the matter.

The names of those admitted to the Fellowship Ad Eundem shall be specially marked on the Roll of Fellows and the date of their entitling qualification shall be indicated.

The decision of Council shall be final and no correspondence shall be entered into.

The description of a Fellow elected in this manner shall be FRCSI.

Election to the Fellowship Ad Eundem shall not be published until the elected Fellow has signed and returned the declaration form to the RCSI Fellows Office.

Nothing in these Ordinances shall be read and construed as obliging the Council to admit a candidate to the Fellowship Ad Eundem should the Council decide to suspend for the time being this method of admission of the Fellowship.

A Fellow elected under this section shall enjoy the same rights as other persons elected to the Fellowship after examination and is expected to remain in good standing. Current Fellowship fees can be found at <http://www.rcsi.ie/fampsubs>

Any individual application shall be held on file (pending receipt of any requested supplementary information) for a maximum of twenty four months after which time the file will be closed and a new application may be submitted.

The process for consideration of applications for Fellowship Ad Eundem by RCSI is in no way related to that of the Irish Medical Council for admission to their register of Medical Specialists.
